Email your application to EraPRApps@gmail.com in the body of the email include the following, if you attach a file, I won't even read your application. Do not bother applying if you have an extensive ban history, or if you do not have a positive attitude. Also do not bother applying if the log test takes you more than 10 minutes.

Nickname:

Account(s) (all of them please, leaving out an account of yours with a ban history will lead to immediate disqualification):

Age:

Previous positions on Era or other large servers:

Why are you applying for the PR position?

What one change would you make to Era?

What will you try to contribute if you are hired?

What is Era's stance on scamming?

If you are applying with a ban, please explain the situation:

Do you have a job in real life? If so, what do you do?

Do you go to school? If so, what year are you in (college or high school)?

What experience do you have presenting information in front of people? (like research presentations in school or work).

What one thing would you improve about yourself?