Basic Questions

1. Have you ever been staff before? Which server if not GK? What position(s)? Why did you quit, or why were you fired?
2. What rights does a GP need in order to successfully do his/her job effectively?
3. How much time would you be willing to devote to Graal Police in a typical week? Give not only hours but also time period (like 8-10 am EST, etc).
4. What time zone do you live in?
5. How old are you?
6. What preoccupies your time when you're not on Graal? (ex. Work, School, Sports, etc. Please give the amount of time this impacts on your weekly schedule).

Situational Questions

Please answer these questions truthfully and with as much detail as possible.

You will be presented with different situations below. Please explain how you would handle each one fully along with answering any extra questions that may be included.

7. You get a report of a player abusing a glitch to be warped to main using the tutorial quest.

8. You're playing in an event, and you witness someone cheat. The ET is friends with the player and disagrees with you, stating they will just argue the facts with a higher admin if you tell on them.

9. Someone makes a complaint that a player is 'stalking' them by PMing them constantly, following them around, etc.

10. You've noticed that masses have become very vulgar in a short span of time. What do you think is the most effective way to get the offending players to stop massing?

11. You get complaints that one of your friends is harassing people in Bomboria Trade, but they claim it to be untrue.

12. You get a PM from a player telling you that someone is trying to sell an item to them but they must pay through Paypal.

13. A new player comes up to you while you're sitting in MMT asking if you could help them with some quests. You open your playerlist and notice that there are no FAQs on which you can send the player to.

14. A player is spamming xray & diseases on other players in Bomboria making them confused and annoyed. You've received some complaints about it, is this player breaking any rules? If so how do you handle the situation?

15. You receive a complaint from a player that a staff member from a different server is harassing them.

16. You receive a PM from a jailed player or his friend saying that he did not receive a warning before being jailed and wants to be released.

Final Question

Why do you want to become a GP? Tell me a bit about yourself and explain why you feel you are the best fit to join the team. (Such as how you react to situations, previous online or real life experience with a similar position, if you've helped resolve situations between players yourself, etc.)

Thank you for applying for GP. Please take the time to review your application and answer any questions that have been missed or are not answered fully. If you do not understand a question please contact one of our GPs for assistance but remember all work and answers must be your own. Do not ask for answers. Good luck to you!
